

Alix Capital launches the UAIX indices, a new family of investable single strategy UCITS hedge funds benchmarks.

GENEVA – February 21th 2012 – Alix Capital, the provider of the UCITS Alternative Index family of indices today announces the launch of the UAIX indices, a new family of benchmarks tracking the performance of single UCITS hedge funds strategies. The UAIX indices are based on a proprietary systematic model developed by Alix Capital. Their objective is to replicate and outperform each respective UCITS Alternative Index benchmark. UAIX indices are composed of some 6 to 15 underlying UCITS hedge funds and rebalanced quarterly. Among other criteria constituent funds have to be part of the UCITS Alternative Index broad universe, have at least EUR 30m asset under management and accept new investments. UAIX indices are built using a UCITS compliant methodology, are designed to be investable and offer weekly pricing.

New indices launched today include:

- UAIX Commodities
- UAIX CTA
- UAIX Fixed Income
- UAIX Long/Short Equity
- UAIX Volatility

Louis Zanolin, CEO, Alix Capital says: “The UAIX indices have been developed in response to investors demand for single strategy UCITS hedge funds investable benchmarks. After months of research we are very proud to release this innovative UCITS hedge funds index family. While the first investment solutions based on the UAIX indices have already been launched via dedicated managed accounts, we are currently working with third party financial products providers to build investment solutions linked to the UAIX indices. The creation of single strategy replicable benchmarks such as the UAIX indices is a natural evolution of the ever developing UCITS hedge funds industry.”

The UAIX indices may be licensed by financial institutions for the creation of index based financial products. A license is required from Alix Capital for any product linked to, or based on, the UAIX indices. Additional information on the performance and methodology of the UAIX Indices is available on: www.ucits-alternative.com.
